

Xiph.org Branding

20/10/2003 version 1.0
Comments to:
daniel@mondodesigno.com

The fonts used here are Independence and Blue Highway, which I believe to be free software.

The idea is to have an Ogg logo which is still recognisable to people who don't use the Latin alphabet.

Speex and Theora are often referred to without the Ogg prefix, but this is a mistake in my view.

Either they are meant to be part of the same family of codecs, or they aren't.

This one you really won't like. I propose re-naming Icecast, because at the moment the name doesn't actually suggest that it has anything to do with Ogg or Vorbis.